Art Platform — Los Angeles 2012 Announces Participating Exhibitors for its Second Edition

Art Platform — Los Angeles is pleased to announce the 2012 exhibitors for the second edition of the modern and contemporary art fair. The fair, to be held on September 28th – 30th, 2012 with a preview on September 27th, will take place at the Barker Hangar in Santa Monica and will feature a roster of over 70 significant national and international galleries. In a specially designed exhibition space by renowned architecture firm, Frederick Fisher and Partners, the Californian tradition of indoor/outdoor environments is considered in a series of structures at The Santa Monica Airport. With this year's combination of new and returning galleries, Art Platform — Los Angeles promises to deliver a fully comprehensive and exciting display of modern and contemporary art.

In response to the lineup of this year's participating galleries, Executive Director of Art Platform — Los Angeles, Adam Gross says:

We are delighted by the strength and breadth of the Art Platform — Los Angeles exhibitor list. The confluence of galleries, participants in the VIP program, the arts organizations and our sponsors, reaffirms the important position Los Angeles has within the current international art world. We are fortunate to be able to present this program to such a broad audience and look forward to welcoming art lovers to our city. By having so many quality galleries in one place, Art Platform — Los Angeles will help art enthusiasts understand the rich list of artists, dealers, collections and museums that make Los Angeles one of the most vibrant centers for art making today.

From within the United States, the contemporary programs at Art Platform — Los Angeles will include Klemens Gasser & Tanja Grunert, New York; Night Gallery, Los Angeles; Marc Selwyn, Los Angeles; and Whitestone Gallery, Philadelphia. International galleries representing contemporary work will include Praz-Delavallade, Paris; Sin Sin, Hong Kong; as well as the arts publishing outfit Other Criteria, London. Among the exhibitors showcasing secondary modern works are Hackett|Mill, San Francisco, and Hirschl & Adler Modern, New York.

About Art Platform — Los Angeles

Art Platform - Los Angeles art fair demonstrates the rich and diverse cultural landscape of Southern California and underscores Los Angeles' influential position within the contemporary art world.

Bringing together both local and international artists, dealers, collectors, museums and art enthusiasts that play important roles in the vibrant Southern California art community, Art Platform – Los Angeles emphasizes the increased recognition of greater Los Angeles as an international art capital. In pursuit of such emphasis, Art Platform – Los Angeles 2012 will both continue to provide unprecedented access to the art, galleries, institutions and collections that define the Los Angeles art scene, and to contextualize them within a broader, international framework.

Art Platform — Los Angeles will serve as a platform to encourage and deepen the dialogue between the talent of greater Los Angeles and that of the international art community around the globe.
